liberately to murder the Republican party.

"The nation might as well know the truth. Three minutes before the roll was called on this contest Sentor Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, walked over to Mr. Stevenson, of Colorado, who holds the proxy of Senator Scott, of West Virginin, and said to him: We simply cannot afford to go on recordin this case against senting the Roosevelt delegates; the case is no plain the country will not stand for it."

"Mr. Stevenson replied: We have to do it. Of course, there is no jus-for it.

"Mr. Stevenson replied: 'We have to do it. Of course, there is no justification in fact, but if once we establish a precedent we will have to yield in other cases.'

"The theft was cold-blooded, premeditated and deliberate. With the record of the roll call of the Ninth Alabama Congressional District, I now deliberately clarge that a majority of the national committee, in violation of their sacred trust as trustees of the Republican party, in fear and hatred of Theodore Roosevelt, have entered into an agreement among themselves to unsent

"In his bitterness at being repudiated by the Republican voters, Mr. Taft has now determined if possible to wreck the party rather than permit it to win with Colonel Roosevelt as its condidate. But the national committee is not the national

Note to Be Gagged.

"I don't intend to be choked off by a gag thus early in she campaign," said Senator Borah with some show of heat "and I will either have my say here of I will occupy such a position that this committee will make no progress," "This committee will conduct its proceedings under the usual parliamentary rules," said Mr. Rosewater, with marked dignity.

"But you shall not adopt any rule or gag by laying motions on the table this early in the campaign," retorted the Idaho Senator.

The committee proceeded to table the Borah motion by a viva voce vote, and then Mr. Borah was permitted to continue, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, we will not make any progress here. Now I know that you (Continued on Ninth Page)."

Ten Political Heads on the Chicago Battlefield

The above group shows ten of the political experts now on the Chicago battlefield. Only one is a Democrat, By numbers they are: (1) Former United States Senator Charles Dick, of Ohio, legal representative of the Taft forces; (2) Urey Woodson, of Kentucky, secretary of the Democratic National Committee, who "just dropped in" en route to Baltimore; (3) Colonel Harry S. New, of Indiana, charman of the national subcommittee on arrangements for the convention; (4) Joseph B. Kenling, of Indiana, representing the Taft contexts before the national committee; (5) Sidney Bicher, member of the national committee from the District of Columbia; (6) David W. Mulvane, of Kanssos, one of the arrangements subcommittee members; (7) A. M. Stevenson, a delegate at large from Colorado; (8) Ormsby McHarg, legal representative of the Roosevelt interests in the context cases; (9) General Powell Clayton, of Arkansos, member of the national committee since 1872; (10) Colonel Cecil Lyon, of Texas, the aggressive Roosevelt lender in the Southwest.

LIFE OF COUNT

Kovacs moved to the front of the gallery, and shouting "There are still opposition members in the chamber," drew a revolver and emptied three chambers in the direction of the president. Then, seemingly chagrined at his bad marksmanship, he put two bullets into his own body.

The attack upon the count is a direct outcome of the agitation which has fiven persisted in since his election as speaker May 22. Tisza is an opponent of universal suffrage, and on

That same night the Socialist union decided to proclaim a strike of all unionist workmen in Buogrest with the exception of municipal employes. Assumed Revolutionary Aspect.
The whole affair took on a revolutionary character, and the government was compelled to compromise with the Socialists by inducing the manufacturers involved in the strike to make certain concessions, thus appeasing the popular feeling.

The men returned to work May 25, and the demonstration shifted from the streets to the Diet. The onposition by noisy, factices prevented the passage of legislation and the Jead-lock was unbroken until last Tuesday, when President Tisza forced through the government's defense bills in the M., every Sunday, carrying a through coach midst of a tumuit.
